Things to Know at Christ the King (CtK)

Sunday Best: Sunday is a day given especially to almighty God. In part, we show this by how we dress at the holy Sacrifice of the Mass on this day. When sitting, a woman's dress should reach below her knees, cover her shoulders, and rest near the pit of the throat; a man should wear a suit & tie, or, at least, a collared shirt & clean slacks.

Baptism: we ask that all families be active, registered parishioners 6 months prior to receiving this Sacrament.

First Holy Communion & Confirmation: your child's regular attendance at our catechism classes is anticipated of them before receiving these sacraments.

Matrimony: arrangements with the parish should be made at least 6 months in advance of a wedding date; participation in a priest conducted marriage preparation program is required.

Regarding Confession, as often time is limited to deal with situations in Confession, please know that the priests at CtK are available to meet with you outside confession times to help you with your spiritual dilemmas; simply call the office to arrange an appointment with either priest.

If you are new to the parish, it would please the pastor to meet with you; you may arrange an appointment through the secretary.

Thinking of joining the Catholic Church? Please contact the office; individual instruction will be arranged with our priests.

We have just finished one more Lent in our lives. Did we finish the journey a better man; a more finished man? Archbishop Fulton Sheen may help our diagnosis: "By what signs will you know whether your life is unfinished? Among others we mention these: First, the habit of criticism is the best indication of an incomplete life. Our sense of justice is so keen and deep that we do not have it ourselves, we compensate for the lack of it trying to make everyone else just. Criticism of others is thus an oblique form of self-commendation. We think we make the picture hang straight on our wall by telling our neighbor that all his pictures are crooked. Like the lark who flutters with great agitation over her nest, we exhibit most flagrantly the very things we wish to hide.

"When you say of another's failing, "That is one thing I cannot stand," you reveal the very thing to which you are most unconsciously inclined. We personalize and objectify our unrecognized failings by talking of the failings of others. We hate in others the sins to which we are most likely addicted. When Our Lord said, "Judge not, that you may not be judged" (Mt 7:1), he also meant that you are judged by your judgment of others! You have given yourself away!"
~ Fulton Sheen, Seven Words of Jesus and Mary, Lessons on Cana and Calvary, p. 81; on Our Lord's 6th sermon from the cross, "It is consummated."

Beati, qui non viderunt, et crediderunt. See how in a single grain of the smallest seed is hidden the whole mass of that great tree that is to rise from it. Let us consider where in this little grain of seed is the strength of wood concealed, the toughness of the root, the abundance of the sap & fragrance, the richness of its fruits, the greenness of the leaves. For when we touch the seed it seems without strength. Whence then comes the strength of wood? It is not resistant. Whence the toughness of the root? It is not sweet. Then from where does the sweetness of its fruit come? Smell it, it has no odor. Whence the odor that smells so sweet in the fruit? There is not trace of green in it. From where then does the green of its leaves come? All these things are hidden together in the seed; yet they do not come forth together from the seed. ~ St. Gregory the Great; 540-603 †

Happy Easter, Alleluia! Thank you to all who assisted at the Holy Triduum, including the choir, servers, sweepers & cleaners & altar of repose builders. Also, the Fathers thank you for your Easter cards & gifts. God reward you!
