

Today's introit takes from Chapter 66 of the Book of the Prophet Isaiah, verses 10, 11; then Psalm 121, verse 1. We identify them scripturally then understand them in relation to the feast. Bold print indicates the Introit inclusion.

Isaiah (Yahweh is salvation), one of the four major Prophets, was born about 740 BC, of a priestly or noble family of Jerusalem, who was highly educated & familiar with the court of the kingdom of Judah. He married, had two children, and, following the death of King Uzziah, in 700 BC, he received his prophetic call in a vision while praying in the Temple. He was to preach the downfall of Israel & Judah (for infidelity) and the eventual re-construction of Israel.

Chapter 66 is summed: "More reprobation of the Jews & the call of the Gentiles."
10. Rejoice with Jerusalem, and be glad with her, all you that love her: rejoice for joy with her, all you that mourn for her.

11. That you may (suck, and) be filled with the breasts of (her) (your) consolations: (that you may milk out, and flow with delights, from the abundance of her glory.)

Psalm 121 is paraphrased: "The desire and hope of the just for the coming of the kingdom of God, and the peace of his church."

1. I rejoiced at the things that were said to me: We shall go into the house of the Lord.

St. Robert Bellarmine calls this verse 'the language of God's people', "expressive of the joy upon hearing the welcome news of the return to their country." He adds that Christ more happily announced: Do penance for the kingdom of heaven is at hand; and yet more happily & clearly, "In my Father's house there are many mansions. If not, I would have told you; because I go to prepare a place for you. And if I shall go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and will take you to myself, that where I am, you also may be." What joyous news! St. Robert then reflects on the sensual man, who, "at the approach of death, instead of rejoicing, trembles and laments, and justly" for as he did not bother to ascend to higher things while on earth, must, by consequence, descend to lower regions at death, ever a prisoner of his gnawing passions.

The Feast of the Fourth Sunday in Lent finds us 22-days trek into our Lent. At this halfway point, in our 40-day journey, we find Jesus once more atop a mountain, this time, with all his disciples, feeding a crowd. This experience feeds them but us more. The Epistle reveals the superiority of the New Testament over the Old: "...we are not children of the bondwoman but of the free...;" the Gospel recounts the miracle of five barley loaves and two fishes feeding 5000 men near the time of the great feast of the Passover, "Now the Pasch, the festival day of the Jews, was near at hand..." The Catholic Church is the covenant New Jerusalem, the Promise-Fulfilled; from her height, the Church showers upon mankind Food for eternal life. This is our joy, never dampened by earthly sorrow; though we mourn in the valley of tears, we ever rejoice
