

Today's Introit takes from Isaiah 48, verse 20; then Psalm 65, verses 1 & 2. We review them scripturally then understand them in relation to the feast. Bold print indicates the Introit inclusion.

Isaiah (Yahweh is salvation) was born near 760 BC and lived in Jerusalem. Likely, he was a priest or of a noble family, judging by his education and knowledge of Judah's nobility. He married, sired two children, and, in 740 BC, received his calling to be a prophet. He spoke of the downfall of Israel & Judah for their infidelity, their coming Babylonian exile & eventual return, and the future Messiah.

Chapter 48 is summed: "He reproaches the Jews for their obstinacy: he will deliver them out of their captivity, for his own name's sake."

20. (Come forth out of Babylon, flee ye from the Chaldeans,) declare it with the voice of joy: make this to be heard, (alleluia): and speak it out even to the ends of the earth. Say: The Lord has redeemed his servant Jacob, (alleluia, alleluia, alleluia).

In chapters 40-55, Isaiah prophesied (200 years in advance) the Jews in exile & their return. Declare it with joy... it was a joyous event when God eventually returned the Jews to their homeland; it is more joyous for the Christian, however, that God has freed man from sin & death and opened up to him the home of heaven.

Psalm 65 is paraphrased: "An invitation to praise God."

1. Shout with joy to God, all the earth. 2. Sing ye psalm to his name: give glory to his praise.

These same verses are found in the Introit of the Third Sunday after Easter. The repetition reminds the Christian of his proper disposition, especially now: joy!

The Feast of the Fifth Sunday after Easter prepares for Christ's Ascension and introduces the Church's practice of petitioning the Father through Christ. The Epistle stresses works: "Be ye doers of the law & not hearers only" while the Gospel instructs to ask the Father in the name of His Son: "Amen, amen, I say to you: If you ask the Father any thing in my name, he will give it to you. Hitherto, you have not asked anything in my name: Ask, and you shall receive, that your joy may be full." Four days hence, the Church celebrates the liturgical ascension of Jesus into heaven; His humanity being the first fruit of His victory.

Declare it with the voice of joy. Jesus now sits at the Father's right hand, receiving our prayers, making intercession for us. Say: The Lord hath redeemed his servant Israel. By His humanity taking up residence in heaven, Jesus has potentially brought all men to heaven. Shout with joy to God, all the earth. It remains for His people to claim this victory by a faith animated by good works; accompanied by a spirit of joy; a spirit of 'not because I have to, but because I want to!'

Dear JESUS, grant me the grace always to do Thy will with an authentic joy arising from my confident participation in Thy own everlasting victory!

Do you desire to know how the saints endured in patience & yielded not to despair? The Lord called Abraham, brought him into Palestine, saying: I shall give this land to thee, and to thy seed after thee; as the stars of heaven they shall be, which shall not be numbered (Gn 13:15). Many years later, Abraham near death, without heir, did not say: “Lord, You promised me many children, where are they? My wife and I are too old now. Your prophecy is false.” No, he said nor thought this, but believed. While his body grew old, his hope grew young; as his body weakened, his faith strengthened. “God has promised; He is the Lord of nature; He makes possible what is impossible” Imitate the faith of Abraham. After his flesh had withered, and its powers failed, then the promise of the Lord took life. ~ St. Basil, 330-379 †

The prayers ask for many good things, material & spiritual e.g., V. ab spiritu fornication, R. libera nos Domine, is a plea to be free of carnal lusts & the serving of idols. Does not our world, our nation, our city, our neighbor, our self, need such grace! Let us be the salt of the earth!
